Reading

3 Read and answer the questions.

Rome is the capital city of Italy. They started building it in 753 B.C. and the Romans have a story to explain how this happened.

Twin boys, Romulus and Remus, were taken from their mother and left by the river Tiber to starve. A mother wolf found the babies and looked after them until they were old enough to take care of themselves.

Years later, Mars (the Roman God of war) said to the boys: "Build a city where you were found." The two boys started building the city but ended up at war with each other. Romulus won the battle. He built the city and it became known as Rome. Today, historians and archaeologists agree that people started living in Rome long before the time of Romulus and Remus, but many people still believe in the legend.

FUN FACT

Many Romans lived in blocks of flats! The Romans called them 'insulae', which means islands, because they were tall and stuck out above the streets.
